

Cherry Orientation - 2022

- We plan on holding HUDDLES at 7pm on THURSDAY. More information will be forthcoming.
- All 32 players compete for bottlecaps during the regular season (NFL weeks 1 -18) and in the 32-Player Postseason finale. The 12 players (6 from each conference) with the best head-to-head records (just like the pro's) compete for bonus bottlecaps in the 12-Player Playoffs.
- Bonus bottlecaps are also awarded to the 12 players with the lowest cumulative total scores for the season (Cum Club) and to those players with the lowest weekly scores (Hall of Fame). YES VIRGINIA- LOW SCORES ARE GOOD.
- Weekly picks are entered on the website <http://www.fysmdp.com> starting at about noon on Monday. There will be some college games included and there may be opportunity to "throw-out" some picks as well (the number of throw-outs varies each week). Use your unique PASSWORD to login and submit your picks. You can re-submit as many times as you like- we ONLY take the very last one you entered.
- The strict deadline for submitting your picks is 6pm Eastern Time every Wednesday.
- You'll receive an e-mail reminder every Wednesday morning. DO NOT FAIL TO PUT IN YOUR PICKS OR YOU WILL RECEIVE BEAUCOUP POINTS. Time zone is strictly Eastern time (i.e. whatever time it is in Sarasota, Florida).
- All the picks, stats, and the Wizard (aka "The Sheets") plus the Commish's newsletter will be available at the Weekly Huddle on Thursdays or you can get them off the website Saturday morning.
- The "Wizard" shows you at a glance how many players picked which teams at what point values. Don't get caught cheering for a team just because you picked them to win because you may actually need them to lose.
- The 'What If' reveals who the weekly winners are before all the games are played. Check it out on Sunday evenings before the late night Sunday game is played.
- And just so you know- the "Commish" has the final say-so. No matter what !!

And as we say in the course of the season- BAD LUCK!
